Blue has opened for luminaries such as Neale Donald Walsch and Maryanne Williamson.

"Julie Blue is a remarkable musical facilitator. At the 2006 Leading Spas of Canada National Conference, we engaged her to both open and close the conference, as well as energizing the gala event with her remarkable talent. The feedback from the conference attendees was exuberant. Julie has a unique ability to inspire and engage a diverse audience."

Julie Blue Singspiration

Singspiration Singers

The Singspiration Singers are a creative community of singers of all ages and all levels who come together to connect with the joy and healing power of music. There are no auditions and you don't have to know how to read music. We sing uplifting songs influenced by pop, world, soul and non-denominational gospel music. This choir has 3 main focuses – to become a better singer from whatever level you are at, to make friends and be a part of a dynamic supportive community, and to share our music with the larger community at concerts and benefits.

"Joining the Singspiration Singers led by Julie Blue was the most profound decision I've made in recent years. Julie Blue is a cohesive force of artistic expression and healing energy. Her innate ability to connect music to the human spirit at a very deep level is a unique gift she passionately shares." David Ney
